“ My mom, Dorothy Bigbey, owned the Old Corral Motel. One day she got really sick and I needed help getting her in the car. I ran out the door and hollered across the street at Bud. He had customers everywhere and he was washing the windshield of a car at the pump. He threw the squeegee down and came running. That was Bud.

Always a favorite uncle, he and my oldest son has the same birthday so I always thought of him. The morning I went into labor we had to stop by first to get gas and I remember like it was yesterday uncle Buddy came out with his grease rag and bottle in hand to clean our windshield and 'ask where you going so early this morning" on our way to have a baby was my reply and with his big smile and grin he proudly said " well today is my birthday too!" also another memory he and Pat left with me from my childhood was every Christmas they would bring us a big box of oranges and apples because that was about the only time we got such a treat, so may wonderful memories and Pat and Buddy at our house playing music and the 4th of JULYs, great times together . love all of you .

“ Mr. Mosco was always so kind & had a smile for everyone. We traded with him for years after we made our home here. He delighted children as he gave out jumbo peppermint sticks at Christmas. He was one of the people who through ever day service made our small town wonderful.

“ Cousins, Marvin and Scott, my heart goes out to you all. The word tells me that the LORD comforts the brokenhearted. The torch has now truly been handed down to you all if the light was dim may it shine bright and if it was bright may it shine brighter. These now are our last days to walk and make a difference for the LORD, let you light shine. Uncle Buddy was a quit man, but his light shined in his actions that he and Pat did. He was loved by many and will be missed. We have the precious hope that even though he is gone from us we will see him again and all those that have gone before that know the LORD. So, the last breath here is the first breath in an eternity, where there is no more tears, no more pain, no more sorrow and no more sickness. Lift up your heads and let your light shine for the only one that matters in long run our Savior, JESUS CHRIST. Love you guys. Beth.

“ We traded with Bud at his gas station for many years--when you pulled up he would automatically check your oil--check fluid in your radiator and wash your windows while the gas was running into your car--he was a good man--now he can be re-united with his sweet wife Pat--sending our sincere sympathy to his family.
