“ I had no idea that Mr. Timothy passed. I was fortunate enough to be his student for 10th grade English when he taught at Menaul School; he was a passionate and exacting teacher who set very high standards for his students. I will think of him whenever I reread Shakespeare, Dostoevsky, or Nietzsche.

“ I met Gene this past summer at the Ambassador's Leaders summit at Harvard. Both students and teacher leaders loved to be around him! His passion and smile were contagious! He helped our student runners stay in shape by helping them with early morning runs. He was an inspiration to younger educators who could see how much he truly loved his students and what he did! I am glad I got to meet him and be a colleague of his, even for a brief time!
