“ Aunt LaWana was a Classy LADY! I remember as a child I thought she was beautiful. You never saw her with even one hair out of place. She was soft spoken, kind and so good to all us nieces and nephews. She loved the color pink. She sang and had a beautiful voice. Uncle Doyle literally worshipped the ground she walked on. She had a difficult life in her latter years. She is now with her Savior and I'm sure Uncle Doyle was waiting for her with open arms.

Lawanna made the best coconut cream pie ever. Pretty inside and out. Never heard her say anything ugly about anything or anyone.

I met Mrs. Cunningham when my mom was in the same nursing home. She was always looking for Doyle to walk through the door. They must of had a wonderful love for each other. She was a sweet lady with a pretty smile.
