I was born and raised in Kansas City Kansas my Great Grandparents were Reece Sr and Sallie Mae Germany. I was looking up our history stemming from our origins the Griggs and the move from Alabama to Oklahoma and I found this obituary. She looks SO much like my Great grandmother and her sisters..Wow!!...She looks like an amazing woman! R.I.P

“ My beautiful Aunt Fat, I'm going to miss you dearly. I remember my Grandma (Ida) bringing us to visit you when we were kids. I'm even more appreciative I was able to spend time with you at the family reunion. Love always and forever "Rick Rick" as only you called me.

My heart is heavy as I reminisce on the joys of my paternal grandmother. I did not have the pleasure of growing up around my grandma as a child, but when I became an adult, I got to know her quite well. She introduced me to our Indian heritage and she told me that I was born just like her. As her eldest grandchild, I took comfort in knowing that she and I shared something that no other shared. As I grow, I see that I am a lot like her in so many ways. I love you, Grandma Germany, and you will always hold a special part in my heart.

“ Grannie my heart is no longer whole without you. I draw comfort from "our hope" to see each other again one day. You always seemed so proud to introduce me as your granddaughter and your unconditional love I will always treasure. I'll miss the way your face lit up each time I walked thru the door, your long warm hugs and many "I love you's" when leaving. Our laughs while sitting in the sun. And for sure Black walnut ice cream will never taste as good as when we shared it together! I miss you already and always... Sleep peacefully.. Love Ralynda Jamie Johnson

“ Grandma I miss you soooooo much. I know you had many grandchildren but, you ALWAYS managed to make me feel special. (Even though I knew you made us all feel special) It's because of you that I knew the importance of family and wanted to make sure Aspen maintained a relationship w/her grandmother. Children need those memories, that bond to become healthy and productive adults. I will miss your stories you told me about when I was a baby. You did EVERYTHING for me that I asked. I wanted u for the birth of Aspen, you were there, I wanted at my wedding, (the Johnsons got you there) and I want you now. I only wish I'd spent more time w/u. I thank God for letting us have you as long as he did. Aspen will have beautiful stories to share of her Great Grandmother.

I was honored to meet and be around her as you and Cherry's friend. She made a blanket for Nick when he was a baby. She was a wonderful person and we all laughed and enjoyed her when we went to Okmulgee. God has another angel up there on our team. She will be missed. Condolences to the family.
