“ You treated all of us kids like your own and welcomed us all with open arms and a “I ain’t bad but the bad don’t mess with me” catch phrase every time we seen you. I’ve known you for most of my life as I grew up just across the road and have been friends with Hunter for almost 14 years now. It was always so nice to see you and you’d always remember who I was in my little green car even when I delivered you and the girls pizza or if you had to come outside and hush us all up when the music was too loud or someone was causing a ruckus. You will be a smiling face that I will miss. Rest easy Mary. ☐
