“Dad I know the last years of your life you weren't the same person you were when I was growing up, and I don't blame you for that. The memories I have prior to your stroke and heart surgery were always good. The things you taught you me will be passed down to your grandchildren and I will tell them about you and how you lived your life. I'm glad I got to see you when I did. I will be carrying your ashes with me everywhere I go. Death is just another adventure. I love you Dad. Till next time.

“When I was little Uncle Randy lived in the big blue house in Riley. I don't know if we had a lot of get togethers there or if the few we had just made a big impact on me. Uncle Randy would always be smiling a happy. He had an amazing laugh. He was always making sure everyone was taken care of, I felt very welcome and comfortable every time I was there. He was always busy doing something. I think he could fix or make anything with his hands, just like my dad. It must run in the Pixler blood. I feel like that house was always changing and in the middle of something being constructed to make it better. Thank you for being such an amazing Uncle to me growing up even though I was such a shy awkward kid. You will be missed. Sending love and hugs to all my family, sorry we cannot make it out there.

He definitely had an amazing laugh... this world will miss that laugh. There would be times he would start laughing and the rest of us would laugh just because of his laugh. We had no idea why we were laughing.

I will always love you and wish I had the opportunity to see you before you went to heaven 😭😞 so that I could say thank you for being an amazing uncle and making me laugh...and to tell you that I love you, because I didn't really say it enough 😞
